Indianians Indignant at Their Treatment by Austin H. Brown-They Demand His Scalp as National Committeman.

A Lively Discussion Over the Unit Rule -Unexpected Opposition-It is Finally Sustained, 415 to $50.

CLEVELAND AND M'DONALD.

That Seems to be the Ticket To-Day-Not Much Business Expected Until To-Morrow-Opposition to Austin H. Brown.

[Special dispatch to The Indianapolis News.] CHICAGO, June S .- The onslaught of Tamnany and other Cleveland opposition, which began flercely yesterday morning, has continued up to this time with unabated vigor. Its effect was not appreciable until last night, when some southern delegates began to waver, objecting, first, that New York should not always dictate the nomination, and second, that Cleveland would not be elected. It is estimated that forty or fifty votes have been alienated from him, but his supporters think it will be only temporary.

Bayard gains by this, Mc Donald not seeming to be helped. Aside from this, Cleveland still looms up as the man likely to win. He has the only organization worth naming, and his workers are particularly active and confident.

M'DONALD HAS NO CHANCE. Indiana men are thoroughly discouraged and concede that McDonald has no chance. The contest for him has been a half-hearted one and many delegates, as early as vesterday, were ready to give up, saying it was no use. It looks as if no combination against Cleveland could be made. McDonald is generally spoken of, this morning, for vicepresident, and the action of the St. Louis convention is pretty certain to be repeated. BUTLER BUSTED,

Butler's boom appears to have collapsed. Many southerners express a bitter antagonism to him, saying they would support Blaine first, and not a few from Indiana say the same.

TROUBLE ABOUT TICKETS. There is great dissatisfaction about the distribution of tickets, especially among Indiana people, who expected Austin H. Brown to take care of them. The distribution has been a task rather above his calibre and he has aroused much displeasure, Indianapolis people poured in this morning by hundreds. The crowd generally has increased largely since yesterday and the railways report more visitors than came last month. THE CONVENTION HALL. The arrangement of the hall is better, the platform, having been put in the middle of the hall at one end, gives a better epportunity for the spectators to hear, with some greater seating capacity. TO-DAY'S PROGRAM.

Probably little will be done to-day, though the question of admitting the territories to a representation may come up, and cause a debate. It is understood that Kelly still intends to make a fight on the unit rule, but he may not have an opportunity to do it today.

Considerable opposition to the retention of Brown on the national committee has developed, and several delegates say tney will fight him to the bitter end. No one seems to have been chosen yet as his antagonist. Brown is very anxious for re-election and is straining every nerve, but people disappointed about tickets are talking loudly against him. The matter will be decided to-DEBATE BECOMING HOT.

The debate on the unit rule, precipitated at the first, is becoming exciting, and commands intense interest. The speakers are about equally divided, and a much stronger feeling in favor of breaking it has developed. Carter Harrison's speech against the rule is the most formidable vet made on either side and caused great ap-

The unit rule was sustained by a vote of 445 to 350, New York being counted solid, seventy-two votes for. J. H. H.

THE FIRST DAY.

Arrangement and Decoration of the Convention Hall-Preliminary Organ ization-Discussion on the Unit Rule CONVENTION HALL, CAICAGO, July 8.-The day opens auspiciously for the purpose of a great convention held in the heat of July, save that there is a mist in the air that may grow into rain. The air is cool and bracing, and summer apparel does not burden the person. Crowds began to gather in the vicinity of the great hall in which the democratic presidential convention is being held at an early hour in the day, and door tenders and ushers, reporting for duty at S o'clock, found people then in waiting to enter and secure their seats. Inside the auditorium, however, there was an approach to chaos, laborers still being engaged in giving the finishing touches, after having been employed during all the preceding night. They did not desert the main platform, where the decorations were being hung, till within half an hour of the time announced for the opening of the convention, when the workmen quitted the building and the scene was clear. ARRANGEMENT AND DECORATION.

ARRANGEMENT AND DECORATION.
The picture presented was majestic with its settings of fourteen thousand auditors. Every seat in the vast ampitheatre appeared to be occupied, the audience having its full quota of the fairer portion of humanity in holiday attire. It is conceded that in picturesque affect the arrangement and dressing of the hall excels that of the convention of four weeks ago. The great vists of the old hall has ago. The great vista of the old hall has been lost by the placing of the main stage at one side and midway instead of at one ex-treme of the ball, but the arrangement brings the entire audience much closer to the stage proper and the delegates. The decorations are not profuse, but striking and pleasing to the eye, the national colors predominating. The only retarding feature is the main platform, which is dwarfed in comparison to the magnificent proportions of the hall. The delegates are seated in a square immediately fronting the speaker's platform, on the dead level of the convention hall. Between the delegates and the platform are the quarters delegates and the platform are the quarters assigned the press representatives, who have been provided tables in rising tiers, affording these workers a complete view of any incident likely to be provoked during the session. To the right and left of the delegates are the seats for the spectators, sloping upward easily to a point thirty feet from the floor level. The only additional word to be offered in the way of description is that the lighting of the wast hall is complete, being flanke 1 and the vast hall is complete, being flanke I and crowded with great windows which pour their flood of light on every portion of the auditorium even with a dull leaden sky overhead. MUSIC BY THE BAND.

At 11:30 the scarlet-coated band of the First Illinois regiment took a position above the speakers' platform, and burst forth with a martial air, which also proved the signal for the arrival of the first of the delegates, the Tennessee men leading the van. From that moment the crowd streamed in without ceasing until the noon hour when the hall had its full complement of people.

CLEAVELAND WEAKENING.
The breach in the ranks of the New York delegation, as indicated in these dispatches last night, is being used as a very effective weapon by the opponents of Mr. Cleveland, and there is now every thing to indicate that the recent tempest of the southern delegates is toward Bayard of McDonald, and to stoward Bayard of McDonaid, and the this end those who have been startled at the size and character of the Cleveland movement are now working. Indiana is being urged to stand by their favorite and not to be tempted from their present line of action by a vice-presidential office. TWO PLATFORMS TO BE REPORTED.

Speaker Carlisle arrived from Wash-ington this morning and goes to swell the active force of revenue reformers on the ground. The committee on resolutions is generally regarded as having a majority for a conservative platform. It contains extremists of both views and a number whose position has not been clearly defined. On any action of the committee there will be a majority and a minority report, and it is now believes that the subject may have to be fought out on the floor of FIGHT OVER THE UNIT RULE. Another of the things which now seems certain to occur is a fight in open convention over the unit rule, and not withstanding the claims made yesterday by the Tammany people, the Cleveland people declare they are ready for this contest also, and will defeat it by a large majority.

THE GATHERING OF THE CROWD.

The approach of the hour for the assembling of the convention was marked by the arrival of delegates in large bodies, and a great crush of people at the doorways, which provoked confusion. The arrival of the California delegation carrying a banner at their head provoked the first outburst of enthusi-asm in the body of the audience, and the cheering was hearty.

The presence of distinguished leaders among the delegates did not appear to be caught by the crowd, and there was no applause to mark their arrival. This held true till the familiar figure o Senator Thurman, of Ohio, was discovered when a cheer arose which swelled into roar as the audience came to know the ocroar as the attitioned came to know the occasion of the applauding. While the excitement was at its hight, a California delegate named M. T. Topkins, addressing the chairman, who was not yet in his place, said: "The California delegation, after coming 2,500 miles, catches its first glimpse of paradise in the person of Allen G. Thurman, of Ohio." (Cheers.) SENATORS ON THE FLOOR.

Among the United States senators present, ether as delegates, alternates, or simple spectators, were Hampton, Vance, Beck, Williams, McPherson, Gorman, Farley, Voorhees, Pendleton, Jones of Florida, Ransom, Lamar, Jonas, Call, and Harris. DIXIE CHEERED.

Soon afterward, when the band struck up "Dixie," there was another great shout, proceeding from the southern delegations originally, was understood it was taken up by the audience. THREATEN TO BOLT.

It is said that if the convention sustains he unit rule, Tammany will withdraw.
PRAYING FOR THE CONVENTION.
At 12:40 the convention was called to order by Ex Senator Barnum, chairman of the national democratic committee. Prayer was offered by Dr. D. P. Mahgus, of the Northwestern Theological Seminary. He prayed for a blessing on this representative body of citizens; that they should be endowed plentifully with that wisdom which endowed plentituly with that wissom which is first pure, then peaceable and gentle, and easy to be entreated; that nothing should be jone through stiffe or vain jealousy, but hat they should be filled with that charity which is not puffed up and doth not behave itself. unseemly. not behave itself. unseemly He prayed that their deliberations should be guided to such a conclucion as would pro mote the glory of God and the welfare the nation.

BARNUM'S BUSINESS.

The chairman said: "Gentlemen of the covention: Harmony seems to be the sentiment of this convention. Even the sir seems to be saturated with a desre and a determination to nominate a ticket for president and vice-president which will be satisfactory to the north and to the court to the east and to the west. to the south, to the east and to the west: nay, more, a ticket that will harmonize the democracy throughout the union and insure victory in November. Harmony prevailed in the deliberations of the national committee. No effort was made to nominate a temporary chairman in the interest of any candidate, but, on the contrary, one who shall preside over the deliberations of this convention with absolute impartiality. In that spirit, and to that lute impartiality. In that spirit, and to that end, I have been directed by the unasimous vote of the national committee to name the Hon. Richard B. Hubbard, of Texas, for temporary chairman of this convention. As many as favor the election of Hon. R. B. Hubbard for temporary chairman will say 'aye,' contrary 'no.' The Hon. R. B. Hubbard, of Texas, is unanimously elected temporary chairman of this convention. The chair appoints Senator B. F. Jonas, of Louisiana, Hon. Geo. T. Barnes, of Georgia, and Hon. A. S. Hewitt, of New York, a committee to wait upon Mr. of New York, a committee to wait upon Mr Hubbard and conduct him to the chair. (Mr.

Hubbard appears).

"Gentlemen of the convention, I have the distinguished honor of presenting to this convention, the Hon. Richard B. Hubbard, of Teras, elected absolutely impartial temporary chairman of this convention."

GOV. HUBBARD'S ADDRESS. Gov. Hubbard, in taking the chair, gave thanks for the honor done him, and which he accepted, not as a tribute to himself, but as a compliment to the great state from which he came, a state which was absolutely cosmopolitan in every fibre.

The democratic party in all its elements is the same as it was when founded by the framers of the constitution nearly three-quariers of a century ago. Men died as the leaves in autumn, but the principles underlying liberty and acting company.

lying liberty and self-government eternal; and the principles eternal; and the principles that underlie the democratic party could not perish from the earth, although their authors might cease to be. (Applause.) The democratic party was to-day as much a party organized for aggressive war as when victory perched upon its banners. The democratic party had now the house of representatives, and would have the senate. but have the senate, but for treason in the senate chamber itself. (Cheers.) It would have had the presidency, too, but for the hands of robbers who struck down the express will of the people by means of perjury, bribery and corruption. The presidency has been taken to be a constant of the presidence of the people by means of perjury, bribery and corruption. dency has been stolen from the democratic party by men uttering falsehoods through pale ps and chattering teeth. Some of the men who had par-ticipated in that crime have passed "beyond the river," there to give an account of their stewardship. That stealing of the presidency was the greatest crime in the national history. The great leaders of the party, Tilden and Hendricks, with the dignity which became heroic statesmen and patriots, had submitted with the courage of men who love their country better than pelf men who love their country better than pelf and power. [Cheers.]

The democratic party now wants reform and should put forward candidates whose names would be in themselves a platform. [Cheers.] It wants a platform, too, that would speak in no doubtful tones or as a delphic oracle. It should declare against corruption in the government, against the enormities of the civil service, against the so-called department of justice against the so-called department of justice, against the abuses of the postal service, against obbery in high places, that the burdens of the gov-ernment shall rest equally and equitably on all classes of the people; and that the hundred millions of surplus revenues shall not be allowed to accumulate. In conclu sion, he urged that whatever candidates were nominated, should be supported loyally, declaring that he who would not so support them was not a good democrat, and hardly a patriot. [Applause.]

JUMPING INTO THE NEW YORK FIGHT. JUMPING INTO THE NEW YORK FIGHT.

The rest of the temporary organization having then been announced. Mr. S. Malley, of Vermont, a member of the national committee, offered a resolution that the rule of the last democratic convention shall govern this body, except that in voting for candidates, no state should be allowed to change its vote till the roll of states had been called, and until every state had cast its vote.

Mr. Grady, of New York, offered as an amendment the following: "And when a vote of the state as amended by the chairman of the delegations of such state is challenged by any memoer of the delegation, then the secretary shall call the names of the individual delegates from the state, and their individual preferences as expressed shall be recorded as the vote of such state. ["Hi," "hi," and appliance.]

Mr. Fellows read the instructions of the New York state convention, showing that delegates are bound to vote as a unit with the wishes of the majority. His speech was cheered and hissed.

Mr. Grady said the newspapers had been beight to print at the head of the columns that New York's seventy-two votes were united, which was untrue. If the democratic party wanted the vote of the people to be represented it must give voice to their appeal.

He said that there was great danger that through political machinery the honest voice of New York would be stifled. (Sensation—cheers and hisses.)

Mr. Grady closed with an eloquent appeal that all of New York should have the right to be head in the convention.

that all of New York should have the right to be heard in the convention.

Mr. Doolittle, of Wisconsin, took the floor. He said a state has the right, in its convention, to say how it shall be represented. He favored leaving the matter with New York.

A motion to refer Grady's amendment to the committee on organization was lost. Judge Cochrane, of New York, spoke in favor of the Grady amendment. He said that unless it carried the voice of a large number of people of New York would be stifled. He said the question as to whom New York should vote for did not come up in the state convention, which was the reason that no protest was make against the rule.

Gen. Clunie, of California, followed in favor of the amendment.
Mr. Powers, of Michigan, speaking in favor of Grady's amendment, said it was a great democratic principle that the humblest district should be represented.
Carter Harrison, mayor of Chicago, took the floor and was received with cheers. He said the convention had nothing to do with said the convention had nothing to do with state instructions; every delegate had the right to be heard.

Senator Jacobs, of New York, spoke against the amendment. He said he bowed against the amendment. He said he bower to the superior will and power of the state, and thought the amendment was in accordance with his feelings.

John Kelly thanked the convention for the liberal views expressed. He said the action of the state left him with no alternative but the said that the said the s tive but to appeal to the convention. He hoped the counties interested would not be disfranchised.

Mr. Fellows took the floor again and said there was a misconception of the question. The question is whether Now York shall have the right to say how the will of her majority shall be represented.

In the discussion between Fellows and Kelly as to the manner of their election as delegates, Kelly said the manner was alike, but under Mr. Fellows's opinion Kelly was o have no representation except through r. Fellows. Mr. Fellows said he had great hopes when Mr. Fellows said he had great nopes when he heard such eloquent denunciation by Messrs. Kelly, Grady, and Cochrane, of the machine method. [Laughter and cheers] He was followed by Gen. Bragg, of Wisconsin, against the amendment.

Upon Mr. Grady's amendment that delegates be allowed to vote as they prefer, disregarding the unit rule, a vote by states was ordered.

Grady's amendment was lost by vote of 350 ayes to 440 nays.
THE RECOMMENDATION CONCURRED IN. The resolution that on the vote for canidates no state shall be allowed to change its vote during roll call was then carried ADJOURNMENT IN SIGHT. The call of the states for committeemen on ermanent organization was ordered, after hich, it is said, the convention will adjourn rention hall to-day. SPECIAL GOSSIP. Fact and Fancy Evolved by the Corres pondents and Reporters-Notes.

[Murat Halstead.] The democracy came here under false pretenses of being for Samuel J. Tilden, dead or alive, and the process of abandoning an untenable position is attended with pain and embarrassment. But even in the minds of those most devoted to the old ticket, Tilden has passed away. It is practically conceded in all the hotel discussions that the nomination of Tilden is inadmissible, and so the representatives of the democratic party are jammed suddenly into close quarters, and they are a good deal hurt as well as barried. Indeed, their situation is so difficult that common humanity calls for sympathetic emotion. The availability of McDonald was a positive quality in 1880, but it is a small matter now, and will never come again. One can not help seeing that he is conspicuously supported because he can not win. One of the safest things a politician can do is to go for a man who can not be nominated. A case in point is the coal oil boom for Headly. The democratic party, if honest with itself, would probably nominate Bayard, the closest approach to the before-the-war style of southern senator, and who, after the firing on Fort Sumter, charged the responsibility of the war upon Abraham Lincoln, and proposed, or rather suggested, a biflliant scheme looking to the payment by American tax-payers for the slaves emancipated by war. The Cleveland and McDonald boom goes on with increasing force, and at a late hour these names are more and more associated as the ticket. The Cleveland men have two-thirds of the New York delegation, and thirds of the New Tork delegation, and three-fourths of it are for the unit rule. John Kelly proposes to fight that rule in the convention, and if he is beaten, that means the nomination of Cleveland. I should think the vote on the unit rule the test.

I am inclined to think it would disturb the ram inclined to think it would disturb the harmony of the democratic party to sing "My country, 'is of Thee," and even "Hall Columbia" night be regarded as improper. The Blaine and Logan clubs will have things their own way. This convention crowd is incapable of producing a ticket that will not be consecrated for defeat from the besining.

We had made them a fair allotment of tickets, but they thought they would like 750 mere, and they not only asked for them but demanded them. We paid no attention whatever to their demand, and they made a show of not preparing the hall for us. We just talked the matter over among curselves, and determined that if they did not go to work promptly we would simply move the convention to St. Louis, They very soon came to understand the danger, and they went to work with vigor. Had ger, and they went to work with vigor. Had there been any more delay we should have announced the change."

"Will you support Governor Cleveland if he is nominated?"

"I will not lift a hand for him."

"You can print this as coming from me: I would not oppose any democratic candidate, but I will not lift a hand to aid the election of Grover Cleveland, if he is nominated. I could not afford to. If he thinks he can be elected without me let him go ahead, but I will never help him. If I were to do so I would break up the Tammany organization, and that I can not and will not do. Tammany's strength is based on labor votes, and they will not support Cleveland. I could not sw ing them for Cleveland if I would, and if I were to try I would disrupt the society. I will not do tt."

At the Indiana meeting Gov. Hendricks protested against the impression in the papers that his support of McDonald was half-hearted and insincere. On the contrary, he said, he had supported and would support him, not only as a point of honor owing to his selection as the head of the delegation, but also from a personal standount enthusibut also from a personal standpoint, enthusiastically and energetically. He could not as a man of honor, even if he wished, do other-wise than fulfill the wishes of the conven-tion sending him to represent it, and of the delegation who had elected nim as chairman. No one could insist more strongly than he upon the united and earnest work of Indianians for Mr. McDonald.

Positively "No."

The following is an authentic copy of the communication to Mr. Barnum, chairman of the national committee, from Mr. Tilden:

GREYSTONE, July 5, 1834.

Hon. William H. Barnum, Chicago, III.—I have received your telegram informing me of the disposition to nominate me for the presidency, and asking, "Will you accept a unanimous nomination from the convention?" and also a telegram from Mr. Manning saying: "It seem absolutely necessary that you [1] should answer Barnum's telegram as soon as possible." Your inquiry was explicitely answered in the negative by my letter of June 10, to Mr. Manning.

Hoadly will either have the second place or a cabinet position, and he and his friends will control the patropage in Ohio in the event of the election of the democratic ticket. That is about all the contest in the Ohio delegation means any how. It is a fight as to who shall have the most influence with a democratic administration. It has been settled, and the barnacles and deadbeats who have hung on the party for years beats who have hung on the party for years have been relegated to the rear. They can soothe their wounded feelings by bolting and district. Tammany sustained a severe rebuff last night from the Iowa delegation. The Iowa people, while in session, were met by a re-quest that some gentlemen of the New York delegates be invited to address the delegation. A reception committee was appointed, when the question was asked whether the visitors were Tammanyites. A reply came that they were, whereupon a motion was made to adjourn, and carried without dis-

This is the last week of no campaign After the Chicago performance number two now beginning, the campaign will be "on" until November.

ELEVEN thousand bills have been introduced during the session of closed, and less than one hundred of these have become laws. Thus it appears that more gratitude is due that body than would at first be supposed.

THE insanity dodge plea did not save Carpenter in New York. The jury in twenty minutes brought in a verdict of "murder in the first degree." There is much hope in that. Maybe after a time the "insanity dodge" will go the way of witchcraft and other humbugs.

HERE is a pungent way of putting facts by the Boston Herald. If not why not?

The crop reports promise a large surplus. The question for the farmers is likely to be how to get rid of it. With too much money in the treasury and too much wheat in the bins, we ought to be a happy and prosperous nation, if high taxes and a "home market" will produce this result.

THE saloon keepers of the town of Dabuque, Iowa, have resolved to pay no atten tion to the prohibitory law enacted by the state. It is possible they may find that the state is the more powerful of the two. When the penalty of law-breaking is put upon them, as it ought to be, with all the force and unanimity of the law, they may wish they hadn't done it.

If Chinese Gordon has been killed by his own soldiers, as reported, there will be such a waking up in England as will arouse the world. When an Englishman is harmed all the power of the English empire is exerted to get satisfaction. That is just one of the class of cases in which England doesn't care for money. Grasping and avaricious of material things above all people, when an English citizen is assailed money is no object to the English. They will spend sixty million dollars to whip "Black Jack" of Abyssinnia, and as much more as is necessary to whip anybody who lays hands on an Englishman. In this England differs in a manner most marked from America.

LITTLE or nothing has been said by the press of this country, or Europe, on the recent decision of the Moslem university that the rebel chief of the Soudan was the "prophet" of ages of expectation, and the beginning of the end that is to exterminate all forms of infidelity. Yet the dispatch announcing it says it is regarded as likely to have an important influence on some of the Upper Nile tribes. As the authority of "El Hazar" is acknowledged as widely as the mission and revelation of Mahomet, it would be strange if such a decision should fail to have a very decided and sweeping effect.

analagous to that produced by the acceptance and legalization of christianity by Constantine. A general war of Islamism against christianity is hardly possible, but the new attitude of the Mahdi may make a very virulent war at such points as his follower can arsail.

THE second annual report of the state board of health is worthy of more than passing notice. The only error a: layman discovers in it is in the addressing of it to "His Excellency," the governor. There is no such title as "His Excellency" in this state, or anywhere else in this country that we know of, except in Massachusetts, where the governor is legally "His Excellency." Except this, much excellent matter is well put in this report. The voluminous tables, while of great value to the professional class are of course of little popular interest but the circular letter of the hoard to the health officers of the state is of both interest and value to all persons and should be carefully read. The papers upon special subjects, such as those on "Hygiene of Farmers' Homes," "Public Health," "Effects of School Life Upon Eyesight," "Drainage and the Public Health," and others, are likewise interesting and full of information. There are valuable suggestions, too, in the paper on "Vital Statistics in Indiana," and these ail should be generally known. Such general knowledge would show the valuable work done by the state board of health and stimulate the desire to keep it non-partisan and make it as efficient as nossible

Uron the veto of the Fitz John Porter bill both the New York Herald and New York Sun make a point which shows the limsiness of President Arthur's argument They call attention to the fact that whereas the president argues that it interferes with the appointing powers of the chief executive as guaranteed by the constitution, compelling him to appoint a certain person to an office, in fact it does no such thing for it simply "authorizes" the president to appoint; there is no compulsion about it. It simply enables him to right a wrong, held be such by a later military commission and by congress. This it seems to us knocks to flinders the far fetched and laborious "constitutional" objections of the President. As to the point that the verdict of a court martial is final and not to be set aside, the Herald says: The verdict of a court martial is never nal. The President, by the exercise of the pardoning power, may annul it in any case, and does annul it in many cases. President Arthur reversed the sentence of a court martial when he released Sergeant Mason from prison, and he set aside in part the verdict of the court in this very case of Fitz John Porter the disabilities which had been im-

The Sun puts it thus:

If President Arthur believes that Fitz John Porter deserved to be convicted, he has Jone right in refusing to approve this bill. His action, however, can not successfully be defended on any other ground. But if he thinks the finding of the court martial was correct how does it happen that he himself has remitted that portion of the penalty which prohibited General Porter from hold ing office? If the finding was just, the pen alty was not too severe

It seems to us that fair-minded men, willing to dismiss partisanship from their counsel and prejudice from their judgment, must conclude that the president's veto of this bill, according to the reasons he gives, is without foundation.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The southern delegates at Chicago are not reported as singing "Of all sad words of tongue or pen.
The saddest are these, "We can't have Ben."

There is a man in New York whose business for twelve years has been to interview prominent people to induce them to visit the photograph gallery which employs him, to sit for their pictures. He says it is hard work, too. He says he worked two years with Jay Gould before he could induce him to sit. He adds that he has posed all the leading men of the day, including Presidents Grant, Hayes, Garfield and Blaine and Logan. St. Louis hotels buy their meats in Kansas City and Chicago.

Vermont school teachers are prohibited by law from using tobacco.

Has anybody heard from Mr. Edmunds lately? Does he know that Blaine has been

And now the department of "political notes" begins to appear in the daily newspapers. The Boston Pilot sees in the popular enthusiasm for Mr. Blaine a proof that Anglomania is on the decrease in this country And yet the Pilot doesn't note the fact that in this country of good cigars men are taking to smoking pipes "because it is English."

It is said Sarah- Bernhardt swore like a pirate at the inefficient members of her company who murdered "Macbeth" at her initial presentation of that play in London. Sarah must be progressing in her knowledge of English, for it is only in that language that one can swear with directness and effect.

The newspapers seem to have taken on a system of illustrating news by pictures as well as pen. Many American newspapers nowadays look like a show bill.

Mr Blaine's tardiness with his letter of acceptance seems to indicate that he is going to write it to fit not only what was done at Chicago convention No. 1, but at Chicago convention No. 2.

Great numbers of paper bottles are now used in Germany. They are made of ten per cent. of rags, forty of straw, and fifty of brown wood pulp. A coating of defibringted fresh blood, lime and sulphate of ammonia is used to make them proof against all kinds of liquids.

Durable Timber.

[Richmond State.]
It is asserted on eminent engineering authority that the best wood yet discovered for railway sleepers is zapote, used for this purpose in Mexico. It is essentially a trop-ical traber, and is exceedingly durable for outdoor and indoor work, above or below ground. Samples of this wood taken out of buildings said to have been erected more than two centuries ago did not show the slightest indications of decay, the wood being as sound as on the day it was put into the building. In color this wood is nearly as dark as logwood, is very heavy, and sinks in water, and so hard that the boring of the holes is very laborious work. It appears to be almost impervious to decay, but it has a tendency to split if exposed to the heat of a tropical sun for a few months, for which reason the zapote sleepers have to be kept equally covered with ballast.

Ruin and Death in a Water-spout. Sunday morning a heavy water-spout fell near the head waters of Drake's creek, in Madison county, Arkausas, covering a radius of fifteen or twenty miles. Brush Creek, Rich'and, Drake's creek, and White river soon overflowed their banks. The current swept everything before it, dealing destruction everywhere and leaving ruin behind. Mr Vulpin, the Paris doctor, had a patient some time ago who was afflicted with that form of aphasia in which speaking is impossible, though the individual is able to sing without difficulty. The doctor utilized the singing power by teaching this patient and those who followed him to sing whatever they wished to say, without confining themselves to the words of the air. The Little Grave

"It's only a little grave." they said—

The oakwood and its freight of clay:
But I know that darling hopes were hid teneath that little coffin lid

I know that a mother stood that day, I know that a mother stood that day,
With folded arms, by that form of ola;
I know that burning tears were hid
'Neath the drooping lash and aching lld;
And I know that her lips and cheek and brow
Were almost as white as her baby's now. I know some things were hid away-

The crimson frock and wrappings gray: The little sock and half-worn shoe, The never worn muff and ribbons blue; And an empty crib, with its covers spread As white as the face of her guileless dead. Tis a little grave; but on, have care,
For many hopes are byried there;
And ye, perhaps, in coming years,
Will understand our sighs, our fears.
How much of light, how much of pleasure,
Is buried with our only treasure

The Products of Many Climates on Sale -Canteloupes, Corn, Blackberries, and Salt Water Fish are Samples.

Nearly everything seasonable that this or my other climate can produce is offered in market. Of course the daily supply varies, and there are gluts and barrenness by turns To-day the grocers are offering a very fair assortment of vegetables and other produce, and, as a rule, on "market days," Tuesday and Saturday, one will be apt to find anything the heart—the stomach is often mistaken for the heart in this relation-if not the pocket-book, can desire. The reporter to-day found on sale some wild black currants, which grew indigenous in the swamps.

They have the flavor of the May apple and are supposed to be worth 15c a quart. Blackberries are selling at 15a20c a quart; raspberries, red brandywines and fine black ones, at 15c; currants, 12 1 2c; gooseberries, ripe and palatable, 12 1 2c; cherries, 12 1-2c. Of melons there are canteloupes, selling at 10a15c each, and watermelons varying from 30 to 40c each. By the way the Georgia watermelon this year is showing up in good condition, and the supply will not only be abundant but superior in qualty.

Not much can be said in favor of the size and appearance of the mabbins selling at 30c a dozen, but the shipment has been direct and the corn is in fair order. New apples are becoming abundant at 60c. a peck; peaches sell at 20c. a quart; new poratoes are becoming an old story at 30c. a peck, inare becoming an old story at 300, a peck, including a fine Bermuda potato at the same price. An inferior grade of oranges is selling r+40c, a dozen; lemons at 25a30c; bananas, 2, 40c.

There is a smart demand for the delicacies of the meat market. MARKET REPORT.

Indianapolis Wholesale Market-Daily Report.

Trade prospects have not been so bright in many months as at present. With every expectation of fine crops there comes a reasonable belief that the commercial interests of the land will be materially advanced. In groceries sugars are in active demand; coffees barely steady but active. Canned goods steady. The bulk of sales in dry goods is largely of domestic patterns. Many orders for call delivery are being placed, especially for woolens. Buyers are seeking only to keep their stocks well assorted and purchasers are therefore scattered and somewhat light. An old Indianapolitan advertises his stock of dry goods for sale, purposing an entire change in business. The general market will not be affected, and the change is not occasioned by any special de-ression in trade at this point.

Receipts of produce are light. Butter is in demand at 10c (for sweet country), and dealers are prepared to handle more than the present receipts. Poultry is higher, a condition arising trom the great demand and light supply.

Mr. Scarles says: "I am impressed that it is a duty I ove to those affilicted with Rhounatism or Neural. sis, to say that a remedy has been discovered that is indeed a marvelous success. My son was greatly affilicted with Rhounatism, and suffered so severely that, at times, he was colliged to have morphine injected into his arm to get relief. While in this condition he discovered a panety which effected immediate relief, and a permahent cure. He feeted immediate relief, and a permahent cure. He same sent it have also furnished it to an number of persons suffering with Rhounastiam, and the result has been immediate relief, and a permanent cure. Among others, I gave it for Rev. Wm. P. Corbit, pastor of the George St. M. E. Church, New Haven, Conn., who was suffering greatly with this tearrible disease. I will give you his own words as written to my son, wishing hig to publich the fact for the benefit of others suffering with the same disease."

What Mr. Corbit Says:

"New Haven, July 24, 1882.

"Mr. Searles: Dear Str.—I wish to say for the benefit of all who are suffering with Inflammatory Rheumatism, that your medicine is infallible. I suffered for two months the most excruciating torture; lost 55 pounds of ficesh, and was not out of my house for a shouth; I heard of your remedy, and was almost instantly relieved by it. If there is a specific for discases of any kind, your most certainly is for Inflammatory Rheumatism in its severest form.

An Editor's Experience!

LAID ASIDE FROM JOURNALISTIC WORK.
After trying numerous remedies for Rhamatism, but without permanent relief, I was advised to use S. S., which had given permanent relief to others saffering from rheumatism, After taking half a dozen bottles I found that the disease was entirely driven out of my system, and a permanent cure secured. This was over a year ago, and since then, even during our most severe weather, with sudden changes, our most severe weather, with sudden changes, I have never suffered a return of the old attacks which disabled me from editorial work. It is very seldom, indeed, that I recommend anything to the public in this manner, but I feel it due to your valuable preparation, that has given me such long desired and much needed relief, to state these facts thus publicly. I am sure that but for your Specific, I should have been laid aside from journalistic work, as the severest attack was in my right arm and hand.

Grain Dealers' Association. The Indiana Orain Dealers' association met in special session, at Masonic hall today. The time approaches for the handling of the new wheat crop, and the association not be practiced this season by members of the association. Mr. Pratt, of Greenfield,

Mr. Woollen Retired This forenoon the county commissioners were closeted with Will A. There is enough in sight to make this a very handsome thing for Mr. Ketcham, for it is said that the evidence in the case of the state vs. the county will occupy ten days and more, alone, and the Hannay case when it reaches final bear. will occupy ten days and more, alone, and the Hanway case, when it reaches final hearing, will be as tedious and protracted as was the suit against Landers. Mr. Ostermeyer, however, seems to think the salary a reduction, for he reports that there is not much litigation ahead, Mr. Woollen having left matters in good shape. Mr. Woollen takes his defeat gracefully, and he retires with the conseiousness of having done his whole duty, and with an endorsement such as no other county official has ever had upon the close of his official term.

An Indianapolis Man Murdered.

The police have received the following letter from Alfred P. Bye, a special detecletter from Alfredd'. Bye, a special detective of Philadelphia:

A German, about 45 or 50 yesrs old, came to Philadelphia on June 28th, by rail, with ticket from Indianapolis. He said he had been living with his daughter there and that she had died. He came on to look for his son, who, he said is a brick-layer in this country six months. He was found shot in a pleee of woods on the outskirts of our city. I think he was murdered, as he had a large sliver watch, stem winder and setter, and considerable money that have disappeared. I want to find his friends and get the number of his watch. He gave his name as Jacob Kallar and said he had been in this country four years.

A photograph accompanied the letter, and may be seen at the police station. The deceased was attired in ordinary clothing, and wore a full beard, apparently somewhat gray. The directory does not contain the name of Kallar, and no trace of the murdered man's friends has been discovered. tive of Philadelphia:

Shortly before 2 o'clock this morning Mrs.
J. D. Miller, 186 West Vermon street, was awakened by the presence of a negro burglar in the room, and she aroused her husband, who chased the fellow away. Mr. Miller travels for the indianapolis Gil Tank Line Co., and he had packed his valise with samples, préparatory to a trip to-day. As the burglar ran he seized the valise, but dropped it near the door, but before Mr.
Miller could realize the situation,

Miller could realize the situation, the rascal's partner, upon the outside, grabbed it and also ran away. This morning Patrolman McCain found the valise in the rear of 127 Indiana avenue. It had been cut open and the contents strewed around, but nothing was taken so far as known. Mr. Miller reports that he had time to shoot the intruder had he possessed anything to shoot with, and he will now stock up for the benefit of the next nocturnal visitor.

What Mr. Frenzel Says. John P. Frenzel returned from Chicago yesterday afternoon, to attend the school board meeting. He told a News reporter that McDonald's chances of being nominated for president were exceedingly good He considered him the strongest man be-fore the convention, for the reason that it would be impossible to nominate Cleve-land with so much opposition to him in his own state. Before the Kings county (N. Y.) own state. Before the Kings county (N. 1.) delegation arrived, and decided to vote solidly for Cleveland, his followers, he said, had practically abandoned all hope of success. Delegations from all parts of the country feel kindly toward McDonald. Mr. Frenzel went back to Chicago last night.

Suspicious Visit.
Yesterday Millie Thornton, colored, resid ing on West Second street, made com-plaint that a burglar had entered her house, and in his flight had left his boots; which she recognized as belonging to Joe Wil-liams. Patrolman Thernton, who, by the way, is no relation, hunted up Williams, but way, is no relation, numbed up williams, but while acknowledging the ownership of the boots, he claimed that he called by appointment, and being overheard, as he entered, by a man named Wilson, and not wishing to be seen, he skipped out. Upon being brought before the mayor he was fined on Libel Suits Against the Sentinel. August Richter and his wife, Lena Richter, formerly Baumiller, this afternoon filed suits for libel against the Indianapolis Sentinel company, demanding $10,000 each. The suits are based on an article published in the Sentinel on July 4th, reviewing the circumstances of the alleged Richter-Baumiller wife-trading affair which occurred two years ago, and intimating that the plaintiffs were living in adultery. They were lawfully marliving in adultery. They were lawfully mar-ried some time ago, Baumiller having died.

A $1,400 Compromise. Eugene Mueller, a young German girl, instituted a suit against Otto Beck, this morning, for breach of promise and seduction, which was immediately compromised and a sensational trial thereby avoided. By an agreement between the parties, judgment was entered against Beck for $1,400, in favor of the plaintiff, for breach of promise, and the seduction charge was withdrawn. Bastardy proceedings before one of the justices was also dismissed by the terms of the compromise. The girl is a minor. the compromise. The girl is a minor.

Early this morning a Grand Hotel guest respectfully aaknowledged the presence of several Sisters of Providence who were passing along Illinois street, and the act was construed as an insult by Martin Powers, and the act was construed as an insult by Martin Powers, special watchman, who assaulted him with a cane, and inflicted serious injury upon the head and hand. The name of the injured party is James M. Fuller, of Utica, N. Y.

A Provoking Complaint. On the Fourth of July, John Richardson, boarder at the Globe house, complained hat the house was full of flies down stairs and full of bugs upstairs, and the proprietor's son in-law, John Whittaker, gave him a thrashing therefor. The mayor—doubtless thinking there were extenuating circum-stances in the case—let Whittaker off for a dollar and costs this morning.

Opposing the Monitor Journal. There is a project under consideration by certain prohibitionists to establish a temperance organ in opposition to the Monitor-Journal, whose editor, M. E. Shiel, they claim, does not voice the views of the ma-jority, but is in reality working in the inter-est of the democracy. A factional fight seems to be imminent in the third party.

GEN. GORDON DEAD.

The Hero of Abyssinia and China Murdered by His Own Soldiers-His Last Mission.

Paris, July 8 .- Advices from Suakim report that General Gordon was murdered by his soldiers, and El Mahdi occupied Khar:

In January of the present year General

Gordon, at the request of the English government, abandoned a projected mission to the Congo, and undertook the pacification of the Soudan, then rapidly passing under the sway of the false prophet. He started from Cairo on his dangerous mission with one companion and a native guide, and reached Khartoum in safety. His arrival was halled with wild delight by the people, among whom he had formerly ruled, and the homage paid him was of the most extravagant nature. Well supplied with money, his policy seems to have been to substitute bribery for force, and to compass by peaceful means an end which could not be accomplished with arms. At first there seemed some chance of succes, but day by day the forces of the victorious Mahdi closed more relentlessly about the devoted city, un-til communication with the outside world was closed, save when some fortunate mes-senger chanced to escape the fury of the Arabs and make his way down the Nile or to the coast. Of the scores of couriers dis-patched to Gordon none have ever returned to give an account of his desperate journey. General Gordon was born in 1830, and received a military education. He served in the Crimean war with courage and credit, and then entered on the career as a soldier of fortune which has made him famous. For suppressing the Tai-Ping rebels (1860 63) the highest military honors were bestowed upon him by the Chinese emperor, but the rather inadequate reward of his own gov-rather inadequate reward of his own government was only a commission as colonel. After filing the post of commanding royal engineer at Gravesend (1865), and of British vice-consul at the Danube delta, his presence in Egypt was earnestly requested by the late khedlye, Ismail Pasha. The condition of Egyptian affairs was in some points even worse than it is to-day. The aim of the khedlye, through Gordon, was to put down the infamous slave trade and to re-establish his own waning trade and to re-establish his own waning power. For five years, at Khartoum, on the White Nile, around the lakes, and in Darfour and Kardofan, he worked with the most indefatigable zeal, disregarding personal exposure, fatigue, and danger. danger. The and the country became far more quiet and orderly than it has been since or was for years before. The reputation for justice and humanity soon gained by Gordon among the natives was the real source of his strength, and the belief of the British government in his popularity with the natives was the principal reason of his present mission.

The Report Doubted. London, July 8.—Marquis of Hartington, secretary for war, said that there is no intention to send an expedition to the rescue of Gordon, thiless such action is imperative. Preparing for the August Expedition.

The swells caused by a passing propeller upset the boat. Both young men and one girl were drowned. The other girl clung to the boat all night and until yesterday afternoos, when she was finally rescued, having drifted seven miles down the river and lodged in the rushes on river and lodged in the rushes on Canadian side of the river, where her cries at last attracted the attention of a farmer at work in a field adjoining. The names of the young men are unknown. The drowned girl was named Millie Beach; the name of the girl whose pluck and endurance saved her life is Mary Maney.

Fight With Ute Indians,

Denver, Col., July 8.—Wilson, Carlisle & Johnson's cattle camp, in the western part of Laplate county, near the Utah line, was attacked by Ute Indians on July 3. Charles Cook and Adolph Lusk, employes of the cattle company, were badly wounded. Five Indians were killed and a number wounded. The whites had eleven horses killed and one hundred stolen. The cowboys were driven off their camp. Their outfits were burned and their provisions carried away by the Indians. Seventeen thousand head of cattle were left to the mercy of the Indians. Col. Hall. to the mercy of the Indians. Col. Hall commandant at fort Lewis, has dispatched a company of cavalry to drive the Indians back to their reservation. The Indians will probably reach the reservation well supplied with horses and cattle before the soldiers got in reach at the second of the soldiers. get in reach of them.

"He Lay Down His Life for Others." New YORK, July 8.—A collision occurred on the New York, West phore & Buffalo railroad at Weehawken, yesterday. A passenger train, which was coming out of the eastern end of the tunnel, was run into by a drill engine. Patrick Mahan, a car inspector saw that a collision was inevitable, but thinking to break the force of it he ran out on the front platferm and applied the brake. The brave fellow lost his life in the effort. The brave fellow lost his life in the effort, for the locomotive tender was forced back into the car, and he was crushed among the debris. Mahan lived only a few minutes. He could have saved his own life by running to the other end of the car, but his only desire was to save the lives of others.

It is believed that the Toulon report does not indicate more than half the number of deaths which occurred in that city.
